Yorkshire Chest Imaging Course

Date
20th November 2014 | 08:45 to 16:45

Venue
Oakwell Centre, Dewsbury & District Hospital
Halifax Road, Dewsbury, WF13 4HS

Aimed at
Refresher for Consultant Radiologists.
All junior doctors (FY, CT), STs in Radiology, chest and general medicine, A&E, ICU, reporting radiographers and anyone interested in learning chest x-rays.

Course directors
Dr Dilip Oswal – Consultant Radiologist, Mid Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust.
Dr Nal Panditaratne – Consultant Radiologist, Calderdale and Huddersfield NHS Foundation Trust.
Dr Claire Exley – Consultant Radiologist, Mid Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust.

Content and format
The course is delivered in four sessions. The first three sessions consist of two or three lectures, each followed by a tutorial. The topics include normal chest radiograph, system of reviewing a chest radiograph, lung disease patterns, lung infections, mediastinum, lung cancer, chest radiograph in an unwell patient (lines and catheters), chest trauma, pleura, chest wall & diaphragm, chest radiograph in cardiac diseases and a summary lecture.
Delegates will be divided in two groups for the three tutorials which are aimed at reinforcing key learning points and allowing interaction with the faculty. All lectures will be delivered by consultant chest radiologists from Yorkshire. A significant proportion of the time will be spent in viewing films.
Handouts will be provided in an appropriate format.

Objectives
- Increasing the understanding of chest radiograph interpretation using a systematic approach.
- Increasing the confidence level of non-radiologists in reviewing chest radiographs before they are reported.
- Recognition and management of urgent unsuspected findings.
- An understanding of indications for CT scan of the thorax.
- Emphasis will be on what is commonly seen in daily practice and interaction with the experts.

Evaluation
Evaluation will be based on feedback forms.

Course fee: £80

Registration is by application form, available to download from www.midyorks.nhs.uk/mesh
Please make cheques payable to The Mid Yorkshire Hospitals NHS Trust.
An option to pay by BACS or with your credit/debit card is available.
For further information please contact Jane Matthews jane.matthews@midyorks.nhs.uk or call 01924 816212.